

GERMANS STILL RETIRING BEFORE HAIG'S TROOPS

Enemy Forced Back
Along a 17 Mile Front

(By the Associated Press.)
LONDON, Sept. 7.—Field Marshal Haig's troops have forced the Germans to retire a considerable distance along a front of about seventeen miles, extending from Havincourt wood to Beauvois, according to the war office announcement tonight. They have also taken a strategic point around which there has been much fighting on the west bank of the Canal du Nord, on the way to Cambrai.

The statement follows:

"On the whole front south of Havincourt the German retreat continues under constant pressure. We have reached the line of Beauvois, Boisel and Havincourt wood.

"In frequent encounters with German rear guards, our advanced detachments are taking prisoners and inflicting numerous casualties on the enemy. North of Havincourt our troops have captured a strong point known as the Spoil Heap, on the west bank of the Canal du Nord, opposite Hermies, taking a number of prisoners and machine guns.

"The stocks of coal and road metal which has fallen into our possession with large quantities of other war material prove it was the enemy's intention to occupy the Somme battlefield in the winter months, and the retreat forced on him."

Bombing and Raiding.

London, Sept. 7.—An official communication on bombing and raiding operations issued by the air ministry tonight says:

"On the night of Sept. 6-7 our squadrons carried out attacks against two hostile aerodromes. The results were hindered by weather conditions, as were operations generally. All of our machines returned.

"On the morning of September 7, our squadrons attacked the railways at Ebrang (four miles northwest of Treves, Prussia), and the chemical works at Mannheim. Good bursts were observed on and beside the railway lines at Ebrang."

Aerial Activity.

London, Sept. 7.—The official statement on aerial activities over the battle zone says:

"Eleven German airplanes were brought down on September 6th. In air fighting, and 12 were driven down out of control. One enemy balloon was destroyed. Observation of the artillery was continued both by airplanes and balloons. Some valuable reconnaissances were carried out by our machines and a large number of photographs were taken, while our balloons reported much useful tactical information.

"During the day and the following night 32 tons of bombs were dropped by our airmen, the railway connections at Arras, Arras, Lille, Douai, Denain, Cambrai and St. Quentin being heavily attacked. All our night flying machines have returned."

BETS CIGAR AGAINST $1,000 AND WINS

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A bet of a ten cent cigar against $1,000, made as the result of a joke which the Chicago National League team was training at Pasadena, Cal., last spring, has been won by "Bill" Killifer, catcher of the Chicago team, it was revealed today.

The loser, William Wrigley, one of the club's stockholders, wagered $1,000 that the team would not win the National League pennant. Killifer, who accepted it in jest, had forgotten about the bet until he was reminded of it today by Mr. Wrigley.

The sum will be added to Killifer's world's series share, Mr. Wrigley said tonight.

SUMMONED TO PAY INCOME TAXES

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—"Out of work" was the plea of a large number of actors and actresses summoned before the internal revenue collector here today to explain why they had not paid their income taxes when due. Others declared they did not know how to figure the percentage and some professed complete ignorance of the law.

The performers, among whom were leading circus players were examined by a man familiar with theatrical salary scales and a number of those summoned were assessed a fifty per cent penalty for failure to pay on time.

PLAN REHABILITATION OF EASTERN RAILROAD.

Boston, Sept. 7.—A plan for rehabilitation of the Boston and Maine, with the aid of a loan of $20,000,000 from the railroad administration, was announced by William G. McAdoo, director general of railroads, while on a tour of inspection of New England roads today. Mr. McAdoo also said he thought he could safely promise that New England would not see a renewal of the transportation difficulties of last winter.

STATEMENTS

Official Communications Issued by Belligerent Countries Regarding War Situation.

(By the Associated Press.)

ROME, Sept. 7.—The official communication from headquarters today says:

"South of Asiago, French troops after a short and violent artillery fire yesterday morning raided enemy positions on Sisolmo inflicting very heavy losses on the garrison and destroying the defense works. They returned with 47 prisoners.

"In the Concel and Astico valleys enemy positions were driven back by our outposts. In Frenzella Valley our reconnoitering parties captured arms and material. In the Gropa region the enemy's assault detachments attempted three times to attack our lines on Solarola. They were repulsed and punished by our artillery fire. In Albania on Sept. 5-6 Italian naval machines and British airplanes carried out several bombardments, inflicting losses and damage on the enemy."

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Sept. 7.—William D. Haywood, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World and 92 other members of the organization convicted in Chicago on charges of violating act, were received into the federal penitentiary here this afternoon.

Haywood was chewing gum and apparently was at ease when he entered the prison. He declared the recent bomb explosion in Chicago was very unfortunate and inopportune, and that because of the occurrence it had caused them to be hurried to the prison here, interfering with their efforts to obtain bail.

The actual "dressing in" of the prisoners will not take place until tomorrow. They were given temporary quarters in the east wing of the prison cell house.

In a final statement to newspaper men Haywood reasserted his innocence and that of his associates of any efforts to hamper the United States in its war program.

"I was opposed to the war before the United States got into it," he said, "but since then I have never done anything to hinder it. The Industrial Workers of the World believe fully that Prussian junkerism must go."

FRENCHMAN BRINGS DOWN THREE PLANES

PARIS, Saturday, Aug. 31.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A characteristic French exploit in bringing down three German machines August 14. Although Fonck is officially credited with sixty victories, he really has brought down ninety seven machines since his first which dates from August, 1916, fifty seven of the ninety seven having fallen in flames.

The young lieutenant on August 14 shot the head of a patrol some miles within the German lines when he saw four enemy chaser planes advancing. The encounter was lightning-like. After a few shots from Fonck's first German plane plunged to the ground in flames and it was soon followed by the second machine. Fonck did not have time to fire on the third German airplane but the fourth began its fatal fall before the first had reached the ground.

PERSHING HAS DIRECT COMMAND OF U. S. TROOPS

Over 90 Per Cent of Men Have Been Concentrated

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Concentration of American troops in the American sectors in France is proceeding rapidly and General Pershing now has under his direct command more than 90 per cent of the troops who have reached the other side. This was revealed today by General March, chief of staff, who said that more than 90 per cent of the American troops now are in the American sectors.

General March made no comment as to the purpose of this concentration and added nothing that might indicate his own opinion as to the probability that an All-American drive at the German lines might be impending. He did say, however, that the custom of brigading new divisions with the French or British forces to hasten their preparation for front line duty had not been abandoned.

"But as our men go over there now pretty well instructed," he added, "the time they stay in the training camps over there is very much less."

General March announced also that the 27th division, previously training behind the British lines is now on the line in Flanders. This was interpreted to mean that the division soon would be withdrawn to join Pershing's army.

In his review of the battle situation, General March pointed out that the Germans are retreating along a 100 mile front from the Arras-Cambrai sector to Rheims with French, British and Americans in close pursuit. Official reports show that the enemy now is sixty miles from Paris at his closest approach to that city, General March added, while the old Hindenburg line from which the greatest German effort of the war was launched last March, stands at the point of maximum distance only ten miles beyond the present active front.

The pressure which forced this retreat, General March said, came at two points, British front between Arras and Peronne and the Franco-American sector on the plateau of Soissons.

Reviewing the progress in each sector, General March said the British thrust toward Cambrai had paused along the line of Senese marches and the Canal du Nord with Cambrai only seven miles away and no natural obstacles impeding the road to that objective. In the meantime, however, the British crossed the canal farther south and swept forward yesterday and today toward the Hindenburg line and north of St. Quentin.

Of the thrust by the French and American forces General March said:

"The Franco-American drive across the plateau north of Soissons directed against the flank of the Chemin-des-Dames after a week of severe fighting, forced the enemy to fall back without further resistance from the Vesle. Our Allied forces crossed the Vesle-Aisne ridge and had reached the Aisne river on a ten mile front last night."

Further evidence of the drain on German manpower during the fighting at Washington today in official despatches which quoted captured enemy documents. Numerous German battalions now are composed of three companies instead of four, it was said as reserves were not available to keep four company units up to necessary strength. In this process of consolidation, forty German regiments are said to have been wiped out entirely. It also is stated that the men of the German class of 1919 rapidly disappearing and those of the 1920 class must be drawn on to fill gaps a measure which the enemy is said to be postponing as long as possible.

The despatches note that the military efficiency of the class of 1920 is very low as the boys are exhausted by underfeeding before they joined their regiments.

The despatches also say that the actual monthly arrival of American troops in France is equal now to fully one half of the German annual recruitment.

Casualties Will Be Announced By New Method

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Under a new policy of reporting casualties in the American expeditionary forces adopted by the war department the names of the men wounded will be sent to the United States by courier twice a week and only the names of the dead and missing will be cabled by General Pershing when the system is fully in effect.

In making this announcement today General March, chief of staff, said General Pershing had not heretofore sent in the names of men slightly wounded because generally the men had returned to duty before the names reached the United States.

In reply to an inquiry from the department, General March said, that there were 20,000 such casualties up to Aug. 20. Under the new plan the names of all the wounded will be sent to the United States by courier together with their hospital records so that a statement of a diagnosis can be furnished to relatives of the men.

Henry Ford Will Become an Active Candidate

(By the Associated Press.)
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 7.—Henry Ford in an interview today announced that he would become an active instead of passive candidate for election to the United States senate. He stated he would do whatever he could within the strict letter and spirit of the law to win the election. It must be understood, Mr. Ford said, that he accepted the democratic nomination in the exact spirit in which it was tendered by the leading Democrats of the state when they offered to form a non-partisan combination with the Republicans. "I regard this as no time for the promotion of partisan politics," he said.

Mr. Ford also answered criticisms that his son Edsel, had been given deferred classification in the draft.

"Full responsibility for his absence from the firing line rests with me," Mr. Ford said. "When the duly authorized authority says his services are more needed in the army than here in these industries he will be found at the front fighting."

AMERICANS IN BRILLIANT OPERATION

Drive Germans From Their Foothold On the South Side of the Aisne Canal, to the West of Villers-Prayerers.

With the American Army on the Aisne Front, Sept. 7.—(By The A. P.)—The attempt of the Germans to retain their foothold on the south side of the Aisne canal to the west of Villers-Prayerers was nullified by a small but brilliant operation early this morning. The dense little wood had been packed with machine guns under cover of the German guns. The only break in the American line along the canal was at that place.

—Think Germany Will Win.—

With the American Army in France, Sept. 7.—By The Associated Press.—A German captured recently by the Americans claimed he had been a prisoner in Russia for two years and on his release a month ago he was transferred to the western front. He said the same was being done with other German prisoners in Russia the men being transferred individually and small groups which were separated before reaching the front and the men assigned to different units. He said he had received plenty of food in Russia and declared his belief that Germany would win the war. A Prussian taken prisoner said the Germans were having trouble due to the insubordination of the Bavarian troops. He said he had heard considerable regarding Bavarian insubordination a few weeks ago before he came to the front.

The Americans found a German hidden in Bazoches who had been without food for four days. He said he was tired of war and decided to conceal himself in a cellar when his comrades retreated.

REVENUE BILL EXPLAINED TO HOUSEMEMBERS

General Debate On Measure Coming Week

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Explanation of the history-making revenue bill which imposes more than eight billions in taxes on the American people and authorized twice that amount in liberty bonds for next year was concluded in the house today by Chairman Kitchin, of the ways and means committee. Mr. Kitchin started speaking yesterday and members said his address was the longest ever delivered in the house.

Probable effect of prohibition legislation on the nation's revenues was frankly discussed by Mr. Kitchin in explaining the beverage section of the war tax measure. He also took up the war and excess profits features as well as those affecting corporations and luxuries.

Final Vote Deferred.

General debate on the bill will continue next week and leaders tonight revised their predictions for passage of the measure next Saturday. They believe now that minor committee revisions, possibly of the liquor taxes because of pending prohibition legislation and debate will prevent a final vote before Sept. 17 or 18. Representative Fordney of Michigan, ranking Republican member of the ways and means committee plans to speak Monday urging tariff tax increases to obtain additional revenue. In his address today Mr. Kitchin said the bill should be enacted by both houses of congress by November 1 and he expressed the hope that another war revenue measure next year would not be necessary, although he said that if national prohibition is enacted new tax sources will have to be found to replace the $125,000,000 estimated tax on alcoholic beverages for the present measure.

Such legislation Mr. Kitchin said probably will not be necessary before next year, altho the administration order announced yesterday stopping the manufacture of beer, Dec. 1, next, will cause a loss under the present bill of about $120,000,000.

Future upward revision of taxes Mr. Kitchin stated, must be met under conditions existing after the prohibition legislation is passed and if it is necessary to find new tax sources, several hundred millions can be obtained by tariff increases, gross sales and consumption tax.

Praising the alternative plan of imposing war or excess profits taxes on corporations according to the highest returns to the government, Mr. Kitchin declared corporations are not "hit hard" by the bill which, he asserted, is satisfactory as a whole to Secretary McAdoo.

Banks Bear Brunt.

Ability of everyone to pay the taxes imposed, Mr. Kitchin insisted had been considered in drafting the enormous bill. In this connection he said "a stupendous amount" of bonds must be floated before July 1. Banks, he added, must bear the brunt of government financing and for this reason on a stamp tax on bank checks, discouraging deposits was not recommended.

Tobacco taxes, Mr. Kitchin explained are doubled by the bill while the luxury imposes high taxes on luxuries. The automobile tax he thought was rather high.

"But the automobile owner can pay it," he said, adding, however, that the proposed system of imposing automobile license taxes by horsepower measurement was unjust in some respects. The committee is reported to be considering a revision to base the tax on original cost price.

In discussing the luxury schedule Mr. Kitchin called attention to the tax on the tax on a tax on a tax costing more than $3 each. He said that any man that paid more than that sum for a shirt during the war should be taxed, adding that he himself had never worn a shirt costing more than $1.50 and "had gotten along all right."

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

Marshall Foch's succession of hammer blows along the German lines from Rheims to Arras since July 8 here now will high completely flattened out the great bulges created by the German offensive of the spring and early summer.

Further still the well co-ordinated progress of his attack has brought him to a point where he may well be able to strike a still more disastrous blow to the German offensive system in the west.

From Laon to Cambrai the Hindenburg line stood all last year in the way of the Allied armies seeking to drive back the enemy from northern France and Flanders. Little impression was made in that line except temporarily in General Byng's drive below Cambrai last fall. Already in this summer's campaign however, the line has been pierced on a wide front along its northerly stretches by the British and within the past few hours it has been penetrated in its southerly reaches by the French.

It appears that Marshal Foch's plan may prove to involve the turning of the line on both its flanks—at Laon and Cambrai. In the north the British have been for several days in a position to deliver what might easily prove a vital stroke to the west of Cambrai where they have waited at the Canal du Nord and made no move toward driving home the blow which the logic of the situation points to as inevitable.

In the south the armies of General Petain have now fought their way to positions where the left flank of the line is under their guns and the edges of the defensive positions are beginning to feel the effect of the pounding. On the western outskirts of the Bastin of St. Bobain, defending Laon, the French already at Paris, are in advance of the line they occupied in 1917 and further below the main bastion are standing on ground which had not been in Allied hands since 1914.

Further north they are before LeFere, whence an eastward drive would carry them north of the St. Gobain massif.

The French drive seems clearly aimed at a massive, which, apparently safe from capture by a frontal attack, seems not unlikely to prove the objective of an encircling movement. This, however, may have to await the further retirement of the Germans northward from the Aisne, to the east. Such a retirement is regarded as inevitable because of the allied position on the German left flank from the Aisne at Conde to Vauxhall, and there are not wanting military critics who argue that the Germans here, will not be permitted to halt even at the Chemin des Dames position but that the enemy will be forced to retreat still further north thus additionally exposing Laon on the west.

The Allied unified command makes it certain that the expected drives at the vital points on both the north, in the Cambrai sector and in the south, around the Laon position, will be so co-ordinated as to insure the maximum result.

The process of closing in toward the Hindenburg line at the points where it had not yet been reached, was continued rapidly yesterday by both the French and British. The British moved forward at an accelerated pace because the combat zone in front of them was still held by the enemy and on that front itself they already are close to the line. South of the Somme the French pressed on beyond Tergnier and moved up speedily along the line opposite the front between LaFere and St. Quentin.

On the Aisne there was little change towards the western part of the front where the Americans are reported to have been forcing the Germans entrenched along the canal which paralleled the stream. Further east the Germans are giving up grudgingly the angle formed by the line trending off southeastward towards Rheims offering particularly stiff resistance to the Franco-American movement from Revillon and Montigny-sur-Vesle.

In Flanders the British made some further headway but found the German resistance stiffening around LaBasse. The Germans apparently do not intend to give up Arrmentieres, in this sector, are reported to have been fortifying the region defending it.

PATROL BOAT PICKS UP FLOATING MINE

BABYLON, N. Y., Sept. 7.—A floating mine of German type, thought to have been one of those placed in waters off the Long Island coast by a German submarine recently was discovered off the beach at Fire Island by a United States patrol boat today and brought ashore. Engineers, who took the mine apart, said it weighed about 200 pounds, was not in condition to explode owing to defective wiring. After the destruction of the United States Cruiser San Diego off Fire Island, June 19, a number of mines were picked up by mine sweepers.

BRITISH TROOPS PENETRATE FOUR TO FIVE MILES

Capture Togny Bridge and Station In Somme

(By the Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 7.—French troops today penetrated from four to five miles on the Somme front, according to the war office announcement tonight. They crossed the St. Quentin canal at Togny Bridge and station, capturing both places.

Progress to the north of Vauxhall was made and Celles-sur-Aisne was captured. The French hold the general line from the western outskirts of Vaux, Fluquieres, Hapencourt, the east of Togny Bridge and of St. Simon, Avenue, the western edge of Jussy, the railway from Ham to Ternier, Amny-Rouy and Barisis.

The text of the statement reads:

"During the course of the day the advance of our troops reached a depth of from seven to eight kilometers on the Somme front. The general line from the west to the east was not at all greatly increased was not at all to oppose our passage of the St. Quentin canal which according to reports was crossed at Pont de Togny and St. Simon after a violent engagement. Both these places are in our possession.

"To the north and south we hold the general line from the western outskirts of Vaux, Fluquieres, Hapencourt west of Ponte de Togny.

"On the Ailette front and between the Ailette and the Aisne there is little change. We have advanced north of Vauxhall and occupied Celles.

"On the whole of this part of the front as well as north of the Vesle river the enemy reacted violently with his artillery."

OPEN HOSTILITIES AGAINST BOLSHEVIK

TOKIO, Friday, Aug. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—White guards and Cossacks under General Alexieff opened hostilities against the Bolsheviks at Blagoveshchensk, capital of the Amur Province of Asiatic Russia, on August 25, according to dispatches received here, which add that the Soviets there fled. According to Bolshevik reports the anti-Bolshevik sympathizers near Moscow are in communication with the forces of General Alexieff. Certain elements at Moscow attempted to incite rioting with the purpose of preventing the patch of Bolshevik troops against the Czech-Slovaks, the report says, but were unsuccessful and the ringleaders were shot. Similar attempts at Volodga, Vladimir, Vyatka and Orel were frustrated.

In discussing the war revenue bill at Washington Benjamin Marsh of the farmers' national committee on finance, suggests that all incomes above $100,000 be taken by the government. This suggestion will appeal to the great majority of the people, for their own personal incomes will not be affected.

Over in Springfield the papers are making appeals for the band fund so that music will not be lacking when programs are given in honor of departing soldiers. Jacksonville's fortunate indeed, in having its "Liberty" band, whose members so loyally and patriotically give their services without remuneration. The newly organized Patriotic drum corps is another cause for local satisfaction for the same reason.

There are so many movements and plans these days for food production and conservation that one sometimes wonders if some of them are really worth while. But those who looked askance at the movement for food production by school children should consider the results. Reports show that the school children of the U. S.

by their combined efforts have contributed $50,000,000 worth of food products to the nation. This means not only a great increase in food stuffs but a vast saving of transportation and the release of thousands of freight cars for moving of other necessities.

Speaking of the activities of school children brings to mind that the movement for the collection of peach pits and nut shells thru the medium of the public schools is practical and worth while. These materials are needed for supplying carbon for gas masks. The children thus have a real opportunity for patriotic service. That they will meet the opportunity is a foregone conclusion, for young America enters very heartily these days into every patriotic movement.

ABOUT CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS.

(From the Orange Judd Farmer.)
A report from Washington says that a new arrangement has been made by which all "conscientious objectors" will be sent from the cantonments to farms, and they will serve their part in the war by working in the fields.

We don't seem to get enthusiastic about this arrangement at all. The report says that this is a highly satisfactory settlement of the knotty problem. To us it seems like no settlement at all. It is true enough that a man is entitled to hold whatever religious belief he cares to. But it does not logically follow that by some mental effort he has been able to free himself from the responsibilities that rest alike upon all citizens of this country.

There are a lot of our boys who would like a taste of the comfort and quiet of the home farm for a change, but because they have good red blood and believe in peace and freedom strongly enough to die for it, they are toiling in the mud and hazard of war. Is it right, folks, that some other fellow, who has shared the same benefits and has been raised ed under the protection of the same flag, shall be free from all the dangers and discomforts? Do you think it is a proper settlement to send such men out for farm labor, no different from what they did before the war?

COLLEGE MAY NEED MORE BARRACKS SPACE.

As already noted, Illinois college has joined with other educational institutions in providing for army training and a unit of U. S. army training corps has been established here. The Decatur papers make mention of the fact that a student army training corps has been established at James Milliken university and that banks and business men of Decatur are co-operating with the university authorities to quickly make barracks available. The business interests have seen the opportunity not only for doing a patriotic work but also for largely increasing the attendance of young men at the university, and propose to furnish all the necessary funds for the building of a barracks.

Illinois college is fortunate in having Crampton hall, the present dormitory, as a building which can be immediately converted into a barracks. From the inquiries already received the attendance at the college will be quite largely increased and it is very likely that more than the 100 men who can be housed in Crampton hall will desire to attend.

It will certainly be a desirable thing from every viewpoint for the citizens of Jacksonville to join in any necessary movement to provide additional barracks for young men desiring to enter the college who cannot be cared for at Champton hall. Just as it is true in Decatur, the citizens who aid in any such movement will be doing a patriotic service for the country and at the same time aiding a home institution and their own city. It is very desirable too, to have enough students to require all of the time of an army officer.

No doubt Mr. McAdoo as director general of railroads will yet be able to show a profit in the operation if he continues his policy of consolidation. Now there are five railroad ticket offices in greater New York to take care of the public, while in Jacksonville there are eight offices which have been maintained. This means a large saving in clerical force beside a rental reduction of nearly $200,000 annually. This policy of consolidating terminals and offices is seemingly to be applied in cities large and small.

Some well intentioned citizens in campaigns for the sale of War Savings Stamps have used games of chance in the promotion of the campaign. The government has let it be known that such plans cannot be permitted. This indeed, is a proper ruling for there is no chance about the value of a War Savings certificate. This applies with even more force to Liberty bonds—the best investment possibility ever presented to the public.

A QUESTION OF PATRIOTISM AND HONOR.

People of Jacksonville and Morgan county are on their honor today for the interpretation of the gasoline Sunday suggestion is placed on the conscience of the individual. In school days often the results are better when pupils are placed on their honor than if stern rules are adopted, and so it should be today with reference to the gasoline suggestion. The man or woman who uses gasoline today for pleasure driving will run the risk of being branded as unpatriotic. No fines or punishment can be given under the law for violating a fuel administration suggestion, but public condemnation can give a far greater punishment.

Apropos of the gasoline order it is interesting to note that last Sunday John D. Rockefeller, who if all reports are to be believed has more gasoline at his command than any other man in the world, rode to church behind a team of horses instead of using his car. Mr. Rockefeller in this instance set a fine example.

CHICAGO NEWS SUPPORTS MEDILL McCORMICK

Chicago, Sept. 7.—The Chicago Daily News with a circulation of over three hundred and fifty thousand, this morning recommended the candidacy of Medill McCormick for U. S. Senator.

"While recognizing the special qualifications and personal worth of both Medill McCormick and George Edmund Foss, the Daily News gives the preference to the candidacy of the former, believing from its careful investigation that under existing conditions Republican voters who desire to defeat William Hale Thompson can best do so by supporting Mr. McCormick."

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

BAD ROADS.
I travel much in autos; by woods and fields and grottos I take my stately way, and see the highway builders blow in our hard earned guilivers on roads that do not pay. They're always fixing, fixing, the dirt and rubble mixing, all summer they have toiled; and then there comes a torrent—the fact is most abhorrent—and all their work is spoiled. Their road is washed to thunder; and they repeat their blunder, they build it up again; they cut their bootless capers with graders and with scrapers, misguided sons of men. The roads are dragged and graded, and manicured and spaded, and when it rains they're done; the money that's been squandered on roads o'er which I've wandered in old, wide, wide ways, and rutty catts, and off I see the voters sunk shoulder deep in mud; respect for morals losing, the language they are using would freeze a purist's blood.

FUEL ADMINISTRATION OUTLINES GAS ORDER

Individual Must Settle With Own Conscience—Local Vigilance Committee.

M. F. Dunlap, as Morgan county fuel administrator has received the following communication from the state fuel administrator with reference to the request for the conservation of gasoline on Sundays. While thus far the saving of gasoline is only a request, the fuel administration has indicated very clearly that unless the request is complied with an order will be given which will stop the use of gasoline on Sundays except for the most necessary purposes. This communication from the state authority says:

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 6, 1918.

Fuel Administration, Jacksonville, Ill.

Request that pleasure motoring be discontinued on Sunday for present. Not intended to cover reasonable use for necessary transportation where other means unavailable. What is necessary transportation must be determined not by Fuel Administration but by individual, who should bear in mind effect of his example. Suggest foregoing answer to all asking exemption.

Fuel Administration, Durham. As previously indicated in a great many other cities the citizens combined to bring to pass general observance of the government request. This was true in Chicago, Springfield, Decatur, Bloomington and a large number of smaller cities and even villages. It was stated yesterday that a committee of Jacksonville citizens had been quietly formed with the purpose of taking notice of any lack of observance of the fuel administration request.

If the plan followed elsewhere is adopted here, the members of the volunteer vigilance committee will take down the numbers of automobiles seen in use and the day following the owners will be summoned by city or county authorities to come in and make statement as to their reason for using their cars and gasoline on Sunday. In other cities the plan has been followed of publishing the names of persons thus summoned, together with the statement of reasons for the Sunday use of their cars.

These are military days—lockets in various styles.

There will also be a moving charge for telephones, which will cover the cost of labor and material. The postmaster general, in this order, also states that telephone and telegraph companies will continue to operate in the ordinary course of business thru the regular channels, but where changes of rates are contemplated they must be submitted to the postmaster general for approval before being placed in effect.

FOURTH INNING RALLY

TOO MUCH FOR CUBS

DROPPED THIRD GAME OF THE WORLD'S SERIES TO BOSTON.

Contest Pitchers' Battle Between Vaughn and Mays — Red Sox Concentrate All Energies in One Inning — Attendance Larger Than Previous Days.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Boston concentrated its energies in the fourth inning today's game of the world's series and squeezed in two runs, which was just enough to win, 2 to 1, from the Chicago Nationals. It was not until Pick, Chicago's second baseman, was caught at the plate for the third out in the last half of the ninth inning that victory was clinched by Boston.

Chicago's lone tally came in the fifth inning and was largely a fluke, but Mitchell's men never quit trying and in their half of the ninth started a desperate rally which might have tied the score and run the game into extra innings had not Pick, in a frantic effort to cross the plate, thrown the chance away by reckless base running.

Hippo Vaughn elected to come back in an attempt to retrieve the honorable defeat administered to him in the first game of the series. He pitched splendid ball save for the fatal fourth, Hopper, the first man to face the big Chicago left hander, gave an intimation of what the final result would be by pulling a twisting single back of third, but nothing came of it in that inning.

Too Much Delivery.
Mays, with his so-called submarine or U-boat delivery was the main obstacle in the way of a Cub victory. Mays throws an old-fashioned under ball with a wind-up which doubles him up in such fashion that the uninitiated might think him hunting for fish worms. He had a variety of bait for the Chicago batters—slow ones that floated up to plate like puff balls in a fog, varied with a fast one with a dart and jump like a patent bass bait, and the Cub sluggers bit freely at all he offered.

In the fatal or festive fourth, according to which the team profifers, Whiteman, veteran of many a hard contest and who has figured in the run getting for Boston in every game of this series, got himself in front of one of Vaughn's hooks and traveled free to first. He tarried a moment on second, when McInnis singled and scored when Schang poled one of Vaughn's offerings safely. McInnis advancing to third, Scott dumped a boulder in front of the plate and Vaughn fumbled it long enough so that McInnis flashed across the plate with the winning run, and Scott was safe at first, credited with a hit. Thomas singled to right, and it looked like more trouble for the Cubs, but Flack made one of his characteristic bullet throws and Schang, trying to score from second, was out at the plate. Mays ended the jubilee by a fly to center.

Pick Profits by Fluke.
Pick was the player to profit by the fluke in the Chicago half of the fifth. His gentle tap went toward Scott with frolicsome bounds, like a pup seeking its master, but at the critical moment it decided to bite Scott on the leg and went rolling out into the outfield for a double. Deal fled out but Killifer delivered an honest hit to left and Pick scored.

The highly partisan crowd, its interest at last being aroused to a pitch when even allied victories and the impending bond issue and other advertisements were forgotten, stood up to a man and yelled for a winning rally, when Chicago came to bat in the ninth and almost got what they asked for. Paskert and Merkle expired ingloriously on infield plays but Pick slammed a grounder at Shean and beat the throw by a hair. Manager Mitchell, still fighting, sent in Barber to bat for Deal. The pinch hitter was in a nerve-racking place. Every eye was on him and heroic honors including the croix de de base ball were within his grasp.

Pick took second and went to third on a tossed ball. Schang threw to catch him, and Thomas at third for Boston, fumbled the throw. The ball rolled by a few yards away, but Pick, arising from his slide and without a look around, dashed for the plate. Thomas recovered the ball and his throw caught Pick far off the plate. The game was over before anyone knew whether Barber may have delivered the hit which might have tied the score.

Large Crowd Present.
The largest crowd of the season, 27,054 paid admissions, turned out and enjoyed the pastime, but at that there were vacant seats. Few of those occupied were vacated until the last man was out, however.

Whiteman, who has starred at bat on the paths and in the field in this series, cut off what seemed a sure run for Chicago in the fourth inning. With one out Mann hit and reached second, Paskert lifted the sphere clear to the left field fence. It looked like a triple at least, but Whiteman speeded after it like a youngster and bumped into the barrier with the ball safely in his glove. He was vociferously cheered.

With the score two games to one in their favor, the Bostonians leaving to play the remaining games on their home grounds, were in a jubilant mood, but the National leaguers could not be properly labeled as down hearted. Many in the crowd were inclined to criticize Manager Mitchell on sending Vaughn to the slab with but one day's rest, and further for permitting him to remain after signs of weakness appeared, as there was no scarcity of twirling material in the Cub camp.

WILL CELEBRATE 63RD ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeSilva Have Been Married Sixty-Three Years — Will Celebrate Event in Quiet Manner Today

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeSilva, of West Lafayette avenue, will quietly celebrate their sixty-third wedding anniversary today. September 8th, 1855, in this city, Mr. DeSilva was wedded to a very worthy young lady, Miss Theresa Gouveia, and for sixty-three years the twain have journeyed through life, and now, in the evening of their days, they can look back with many feelings of satisfaction.

They have been the parents of eight sons, three of whom are living. They are Charles, of this place; Benjamin, of Houston, Texas, and Joseph, a prominent and successful physician and capitalist of Rock Island. They have nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren, and they bid fair to be with their loved ones for several years to come. In 1858 Mr. DeSilva built on Lafayette avenue the house he now occupies and it is a substantial and comfortable abode. There were not many houses in that vicinity at the time he built, and such a thing as pavement on the street had not entered the minds of any person.

Mr. DeSilva learned the trade of tinner with the late Jesse Galbraith, and later worked for W. B. Johnson, going from that place to Wheeler and Galpin, and later was a member of the firm of Nichols, Brennan and Company. He withdrew from the firm after a time and made several trips across the ocean to the sunny clime of Portugal and elsewhere, and again worked several years for W. B. Johnson, retiring several years ago to enjoy the fruits of an industrious, frugal life. He and his wife are faithful members of Northminster church and they are much respected by all who know them. They have a great many friends, who will congratulate them on their unusual anniversary.

How this Clothing Business Can Serve

IT'S only natural that every business man should want to keep his business going; it's important that he should. But there's a far greater consideration than just selling.

THIS War has got to be won, and in this business of ours, we feel that any clothes selling that stands in the way of that outcome is decidedly unpatriotic.

That's why we say

Take Care of the Clothes You Have Make Them Wear Longer

THAT'S why we say, "When you do need clothes, get only those that last long; those that save resources for the country because you buy less often. In

I suffered from itching Piles for many years. Had tried many doctors and every kind of medicine I ever heard of, with no relief. At times I could hardly stand it as the itching would not let me sleep at night or work in the day time. I consulted Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, took his treatment and am now cured. MAVERICKS

Nikolai Lenin is surely reaping what he sowed.

While figures produced down in Washington seem to indicate that the farmers are being compelled to sell their wheat for less than the cost of production, somehow we just can't work ourselves up to the point of shedding tears of sympathy for them.

The practice of trying to mix alcohol and gasoline will soon be a thing of the past.

So far we have not run across a candidate who is not sure that he will be nominated next Wednesday.

Judging from Senator Sherman's remarks in the senate the other day, war is still what his illustrious namesake said it was, even a war of words.

Senator J. Ham Lewis is said to be on a special mission to France for the administration. Most people judged that his special mission was talking thru his hat according to reports that have come across of some of his statements made to the press.

Writing poetry has been designated as an essential industry. It may be an industry but a man must be mighty industrious to make a living at it in these days of high prices.

The Greatest Thing.
Hughey Miller who played first base for Frank Belt's Keokuk team in 1908 in the Central Association, is now pastmisting with the United States Marines in France. Miller was a game ball player and is proving a game soldier. He recently was decorated by General Pershing for gallantry in action. Writing to a friend, in St. Louis which is his home city Miller says: "You know a ball player's ambition is to play 'n a world's series. I had such dreams, picturing myself a hero before a large crowd. But say that is a mere trifle compared to being decorated by one's own country. On July 12, I was decorated by General Pershing with the Distinguished Service Cross, and given a hand-shake by the general himself. I had a wonderful feeling. It was the greatest moment of my life. I shall never forget it."

The feeling that came to Hughey Miller has come to hundreds of young Americans since the present war started. It is evidence that patriotism is again coming into its own and when the war is over a new love of country will have been born and there will be universal appreciation of our country and its possibilities and advantages to its citizens.

Soon we will have beerless days.

Hudson Enlists With Uncle Sam

No Sacrifice is Too Great To Help Win the War

Wednesday, August 28th, 1918, the board of Directors of the Hudson Motor Car Company adopted the following resolution:

"Be it resolved that it is our plan to produce only those automobiles during the period of the war as are necessary to clear out the stock on hand and contracted for which we estimate will be accomplished not later than January 1, 1919, and that thereafter our plant resources and our entire manufacturing energy are to be devoted to war work."

Hudson had hoped that such a radical step would not be necessary.

We had thought that by turning over part of our plant to war work—the percentage of which has been gradually increasing for a year past—we could meet the government's needs and still partially supply the demand for Super-Sixes.

However, in view of the increasing war needs we feel it our patriotic duty to apply our plant resources, and our entire manufacturing energy to war work.

We especially regret the sacrifices necessary on the part of our loyal Hudson dealers who have invested heavily in sales and service plants.

After all, however, your sacrifice as a buyer, or yours as a dealer, or ours as the manufacturer is trifling compared with the sacrifice that millions of magnificent Americans are making for US.

They are pouring out joyously the last full measure of devotion for Liberty — for humanity — for US.

No price, therefore, can be too great for us to pay for freedom, honor, and the defense of our country.

It is our privilege to answer willingly—gladly every demand the nation makes of us.

In this spirit Hudson enlists for the war.

Not later than and probably long before January 1st, 1919, the last Super-Six made during the war will be out of our dealers' hands.

There are several Hudson advertisements prepared and placed in the magazines prior to this decision.

Their message still holds good so far as it relates to the few Super-Sixes still to be made. Otherwise it is subject to the resolution quoted above.

And now, in conclusion, just a word of appreciation and congratulation to you who are fortunate enough to possess Super-Sixes.

We appreciate the loyal support Hudson owners have given every effort we have made to produce cars of quality.

We congratulate you who own Hudsons on having a car that will see you through the uncertain days ahead.

Its service we know will be such as to keep the Hudson name shining brightly in your mind reminding you that the Hudson has not departed forever, but is simply in the service of the country.

The Hudson factory and Hudson dealers now have on hand a sufficient supply of replacement parts to meet all needs over a prolonged period of time.

And when the happier days of peace come—after the war is won—you may look forward to more Super-Sixes just as worthy of your confidence as they have been up to the present.

REV. W. W. THEOBALD MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

Quarterly Conference of Brooklyn and Asbury Churches Held Saturday—Officers of Churches and Members of Committees Named.

At the quarterly conference of Brooklyn and Asbury churches held Saturday at the residence of Rev. W. W. Theobald, was presented. The officers of the churches and the members of the permanent committees are mentioned in the report given below:

A Summary of the Brooklyn Pastors' Report.

The Conference Year opened with preparations for the Holy-Fisher Revival campaign, and for the first two months, there were no evening services at Brooklyn church. The intense war work and other outside interests detracted seriously from the work of the church. It has been an unusually hard year for Brooklyn and yet it has been one of the best of our five years' pastorate.

The "Fiftieth Anniversary" of the building of Brooklyn Church was observed by appropriate services Dec. 14, 1916 in which our District Supt., Rev. E. L. Fletcher and others rendered valuable service, and helped to make it a success in spite of the very severe weather. There has been no revival campaigns in either Brooklyn or Asbury, but the interest in the services has been maintained throughout the year.

The Sunday Schools have done faithful work under the efficient leadership of J. A. Walter and E. R. Hemmings. The Ladies Aid Societies of both churches have done a splendid year's work and contributed very materially to the success of the churches. They have also been abundant in labors for the Red Cross and other forms of war work.

The W. F. M. S. under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Walker has succeeded the record of other churches. The Standard Bearer and Kings Herald have added their "mite" to the Missionary interest.

Death has only called for two of our members. Two of the oldest of the church, Mrs. Sarah Reeve, and Mrs. Martha Metcalf, were called in the early part of the year.

The membership of the churches now stands at 320; Brooklyn 230, Asbury 90 during the five years I have transferred 42 by letter to other churches, and received 110 new members.

Finances—There are no debts against either church. Two years ago Brooklyn took an additional $60 on the salary, this with other increases in expenses has been met and the prospect for closing the year with all accounts in full, with out the usual "supper" is very promising.

It is a little early to report on the benevolent work of the year but the prospects are that it will be in advance of former years. Members of Quarterly Conference Brooklyn—C. A. Boruff, T. B. Reeve, J. H. Reid, Wm. McCurley, George E. Belzer, W. J. Bown, J. A. Walter, William E. Thomson, Miss Sallie Stacy, Mrs. C. O. Redding, Elmer Beasly, Mrs. Charles Sheppard, Mrs. John

GOVERNMENT SCHOOL FOR COOKS AND BAKERS

Nine Hundred Skilled Cooks for Overseas Duty Turned Out by School at Fort Worth, Texas—Students Must Reach High Standard.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 7.—Nine hundred skilled cooks, trained for overseas duty, have been graduated in classes of 300 from the government school for cooks and bakers, the largest school of its kind in the country, which is being conducted at Camp Bowie, under command of Captain Fred H. Morrell.

Students graduating must reach the following standard: Practical work, 50 per cent; dictation and theory, 20 per cent; care of kitchen, 15 per cent; discipline, 15 per cent. The majority of those graduated have been taken from the course for second cooks, with first cooks next in number and mess sergeants third.

The course includes lectures and instruction on rations, bills of fare, component parts, field specifications, preparation, sanitation, temperatures, mess management, stock sheets, field cooking, recipes and visits to the packing houses here. An understanding of food values most needed to suit conditions existing in various places is being drilled into the students.

Great attention also is given to food conservation. The army must not waste and cooks are taught to throw all particles of meat and bone into a 20 gallon pot where the mixture is boiled and the fat rendered. The stock is then used for gravies and soups.

Some companies here require the men to weigh what is left on their plates and the amount is deducted from the next meal thus adjusting the food needed to their appetites.

The sanitation course requires the mess officers to keep kitchen mess hall, refrigerators, ovens and cooking utensils hygienically clean. This applies to tables and floors. How to set the tables is an important part in the study.

Experiments are conducted to devise means of using substitutes for flour such as oatmeal, cornmeal, and rice flour. Use of sirup instead of sugar where possible is encouraged.

"Food wastage," said Captain Morrell, "is not always the fault of the soldier at the mess table. The cook is often to blame. If he doesn't cook the food right, it will be distasteful to the men and they will refuse to eat all set before them. The well cooked meat puts the men in good spirits as well as helping them physically."

A record of food conservation was kept at the detention camp where the recruits are quartered and fed under the direction of Captain Morrell. Of 72,179 pounds were used and yet every fourteen days only 25,165 pounds were used and yet every man had all the bread he desired.

ILL. COLLEGE NOTES

The College office has been kept exceedingly busy during the past week answering inquiries regarding the Student Army Training Corps. All indications point to a large enrollment of men, although it is difficult at this time to make any estimate of the exact number. For example, a member of the exemption board in a nearby county telegraphed asking that places be reserved in the Illinois College unit for three young men from his county. Students will register in the College as early as possible, but they will not be inducted into the army unit by the war department until about the first of October. President Rammekamp has ordered a quantity of cots from Springfield to be used until the government supplies arrive.

It seems likely that the number of girls in College will also be fully large as last year. Most of the rooms at Academy Hall have been reserved and new requests for reservations are constantly being received. Altogether, the outlook for the college year is much more encouraging than it was ever expected to be.

The first chapel exercise of the year will be held Wednesday morning, September 18th at nine o'clock.

Professor Stella Cole of the modern language department spent a part of the summer doing advanced work in French at the University of Chicago. Professor Isabel Smith also spent a large part of the summer doing advanced work in bacteriology in the University of Chicago. Professor P. F. Whisler has been discharged from the service at Fort Sheridan and is spending a few days at his home in Iowa.

Of the girls in last year's senior class, Ruth M. Badger will teach in the Bloomington high school; Miriam Candee in the Jacksonville high school; Ruth Chipchase in Mt. Sterling high school; Elzora Ennis in the Roodhouse high school; Pauline Lacey in the Ashland high school; Helen Lee in the Thompson school; Marion Miller in the Versailles high school. Lois Daniels and Helen Steed will take post-graduate work in the University of Illinois; Dorothy Foster is employed in chemistry work in Washington, D. C. for the United States Geological Survey, while Ruth Weyand has a position with the United Charities of Chicago. Most of the men of the class are in the service or awaiting their call.

The French government will pay the traveling expenses of the French girls who are to be sent to the United States to study in the American Colleges and Universities. The colleges have agreed to provide tuition and maintenance expenses for the girls. As previously explained it is expected that the French government will send one of these girls to Illinois college.

THE KAISER'S DREAM. The following is contributed by a little girl, Mary Roberts, 11 years old, 910 North East street:

The Kaiser had a dream
A dream of the awfulest kind,
And it seemed as if nothing
Could bring back his right mind.

An angel came in this dream,
All dressed in her robes of white,
And said in tones full of sadness
That he was afraid to fight.

See said, "I am the Angel of the
And I fear you are going to die"
At this the Kaiser began to whimper,
And then began to cry.

"Oh mien Gott! do not let me die"
Said the Kaiser in tones of fear,
"I am not ready to die just yet"
And I'll do better each year."

But the angel said, "No, you cannot live
In this way another year,
Everyone can tell where you will land
When you are dead I fear."

The Kaiser was very much frightened
And cried out in his sleep,
But it did no good for the angel
Had gone.

And it was no use to weep.
The very next day the Kaiser
Called the devil up,
And asked him to help him in this war,
But the devil was not such a pup.

The Kaiser said to the devil,
"Last night I had a dream,
If you will come up I will tell you
So very strange it did seem."

So the devil came up to hear
The Kaiser's foolish words,
He did not believe a word he said,
But laughed which was really absurd.

"Now then," said the Kaiser,
"I'll tell you what I will do,
If you will help me in this war,
It will be lucky for me and you."

But the devil said, "No,
I cannot do as you ask,
To try to capture the Yankees,
Oh no! It's too big a task."

"For the Yanks will make it hot"
Then I can for you in hell,
What they'll do to you when they get you,
No one can ever tell."

The Kaiser got very mad
At the devil from that day to this,
"I'll get even with you," he said,
But the devil just threw him a kiss.

The Kaiser showed his big white teeth,
His hair stood straight on ends,
For the Kaiser is no longer,
To the devil a very good friend.

The angel came the next night,
Dressed as the night before,
And said that he would never reach
That everlasting shore.

The Kaiser begged for mercy,
But the angel had gone as before,
No matter how hard he tried, he Could not reach her.

For she had gone forevermore,
The Kaiser has been worrying,
And afraid he was going to die,
He prayed and begged for mercy,
And then he began to cry.

But he cannot cry all the time,
And he might as well quit right now,
For his chance is a very poor one,
And to make it better he does not know how.

The next day he worried all the time,
And couldn't get very much rest,
He thought he'd call the devil again,
Said he, "I think it will be best."

But the devil was just as firm as before,
And when he went to bid farewell,
He turned to the Kaiser and said,
"I'll meet you at the door of hell."

Dr. and Mrs. Chapin and daughter, Florence, have returned from Chicago, where they have been attending the exposition.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR ADDRESSES U. S. TROOPS

Lord Reading Assures Americans in France That People Back Home Are With Them—Speech Made to Troops Who Took Juvigny.

With The American Army in France, Sept. 4.—(By The A. P.)—Lord Reading, British ambassador to the United States, addressed the American troops who took Juvigny in a dugout without sound of the guns today, bringing assurances to the soldiers that the people of the United States were with them and proud of their achievements. This is said to be the first time that any ambassador ever addressed troops at the front.

Lord Reading said that he doubted if Germany realized what America's entrance into the war meant. He said that when Great Britain and France really stood in need of help, America stepped into the war, determined to see it thru to the end.

Lord Reading's speech to be translated in French for distribution among the French troops. As an audience Lord Reading had an American general, his staff and a large number of men.

In his address he said: "I am glad to be here. When I came to France I made up my mind would not return to the United States without seeing you. United States without seeing you, so that when I get back I could tell them all about what you have done and are doing. No words of mine can express my feelings and the feelings of the British and French troops to have you over here fighting for the great cause—the greatest for which heroes ever fought in the world's history. It is magnificent. You have come three thousand miles; you are ready to risk your lives and you are fighting for an ideal, the highest ideal of man—an idea of justice and liberty."

"I doubt if you yourselves know what your presence here means. I doubt if you know what your presence has done to encourage the British and French troops. From the time your president said you were to be sent over as fast as ships could carry you, there has been no hold back. The submarine has not held you back."

"I traveled with several thousand American troops recently and I know what it means. That is the answer which America has given to Germany."

"I doubt again very much if Germany knew what America's entry into the war would mean. If she even had imagined what it would mean to have America fighting she would not have found you as she did, nor would she have scoffed at you after you had entered the war."

"You have only to look at the map to see what America is doing. But there is something more than your own achievement, there is the inspiration which your presence affords to the British and French fighting with you to reclaim the devastated homes of France. You are helping to do this and more vital than the effort of any individual, even of the general of your division, is the fact that it is the spirit of America that has entered the fight. The spirit of America is with us, the support of all Americans, who with all British and French are determined to fight to the end to make this a better world for all lovers of human freedom."

"When the history of this war comes to be written I am sure it will be said that when the American troops began to pour into France, by the hundreds of thousands and to take part in the great struggle, a change came in the situation; that then Liberty came nearer with every movement of your troops."

"The British are advancing, as the French are advancing, but we shall never forget, either in my country or in France, what has been done by America. When we really stood most in need of the help you have given, America came forward determined to take her part—a most prominent part in the struggle. There was no other ideal in your mind."

You came in with no selfish interest with absolutely no desire to conquer, but fully convinced that it was necessary for the good of humanity and for the good of the world that you should stand with us.

"I say good luck to all of you. You know what you can and what you will do with us and the French. You will achieve victory by our joint sacrifices, by our combined efforts and by the desire we all have to do the best that it is within us."

"I will say to you—if I may—as a message from America that the people of America are watching you with great pride and with great satisfaction. They realize all of the hardships and many of the sacrifices you are undergoing. They are ready to stand behind you."

"I shall take back to them a message from you and I shall tell them to be of good cheer, that America is here that you are taking a noble part and will so continue till victory is ours."

"Good luck and God bless you all."

DOCTOR PRESCRIBED For This Poor Mother Who Could "Hardly Drag Around"

Glasgow, Jct., Ky.—"I am a farmer's wife and was suffering from a nervous breakdown. Loss of flesh and poor appetite so I could hardly drag around and do the work for my family. My doctor prescribed Vinol. It not only made me well and strong but I have gained in weight."—Mrs. S. M.

The reason Vinol proved such a wonderful strength creator in Mrs. Gray's case is because of the beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates combined in a pure, native tonic wine, which makes Vinol the most successful tonic.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM WAR FRONT

Herbert Foreman, Son of White Hall Physician, Describes Two Years' Experience—Recently Commissioned Lieutenant in Artillery.

A number of Morgan county people will be interested in the following letter from the war front, written by Herbert Foreman, son of Dr. A. W. Foreman of White Hall. Mr. Foreman is a man forty years old, who has been in France since October, 1916. He has therefore seen almost two years at the war front and his statements about the Germans and the general war situation thus have special force.

Mr. Foreman is a graduate of the University of Chicago and of the Northwestern Law school and has the distinction of being the first alumnus of the University of Chicago to get into the European war. For six months he was in the French service, driving an ambulance at the battle front. Then he went to Paris and thru the American minister secured admission to the great artillery school at Fontainebleau, where he remained until he completed the course in artillery practice. Subsequently he was commissioned first lieutenant in the American service and placed in the 149th regiment, which is a unit of the Rainbow Division. He has been at the battle front with that organization since that time and so, as indicated, has had more of an opportunity than has come to most Americans to have a thorough knowledge of war facts.

France, August 9.

Dear Father:

On a building just around the corner is the following inscription: "Jean de La Fontaine, est dans cette maison le 8 Juillet, 1621." I know it is a mean advantage to take of the censor for I'll bet a hundred dollars he doesn't know where La Fontaine was born. I'd like to tell you, but I can't, so if you want to know, you will have to ask Adelaide.

About ten days ago I, with six or eight soldiers to assist me, was dumped out of a big truck just at dark in this blighted little city, with orders to prepare for some of our troops who might pass thru. Just three days before the Boche, with our soldiers at their heels, had left this beautiful little city which before the war had contained about ten thousand people. They left it, as they always do, with the "Made in Germany" mark on it. Where to sleep? That was the question, but not a difficult one—any house offered a place of refuge this still moonlit night. There were only a few Americans in town and fortunately I stumbled onto an officer from near Boston, who led me to the house he had slept in the night before. Wending our way thru a walled flower garden, carefully stepping between shell holes, we entered the house with two or three rooms still intact. One of the boys untied my roll and made my bed, and oh, I was so tired. But what of that? War is no respecter of feelings. In a few minutes here came a Boche bombing plane. I could hear the hum of the motor for several minutes. We all got so we can easily distinguish between motor of the French, Boche or American. They of a sudden, that terrible explosion which follows the dropping of bombs from an aeroplane, particularly terrible because they are usually so large. Thank heaven that one didn't hit us, but fell in the next block. I got up and concealed myself in a shadow to keep from being hit by machinegun bullets as they flew up and down the streets peppering away with machine guns. More bombs and more, and after an uneasy hour all was quiet again. Just what damage was done, how many lives were suffered I can't tell you here. As such things are counted in this war it wasn't much.

I remember very well having passed through this little city about a year and a half ago when I was with an ambulance company. I had never heard of the place before I came to France nor a great deal since, but I have often remarked that it is one of the prettiest little spots I have ever seen in this country. But now all is different. Four-fifths of all the houses have been hit by one or several shells. Some of this was done by ours and French shells when the town was occupied by the Boche. The beautiful stone bridge across the river was blown up and now we have pontoon bridges across. The other side was occupied by American troops and this side by Boche. Barricaded streets and entrances to houses showed the fierceness of the struggle before the Boche was driven out.

This little city was, as I have intimated above, the home of a very fine class of people. It is not a picturesque peasant village about which we write you so often. It is a jewel set in the heart of the wondrous valley which was so famous at the beginning of the war and again more recently. There are many, many beautiful old homes here, indicating that the owners were people of no small means. I have visited dozens of these homes from cellar to garret and it would make you cry to see.

As I understand the rules of war formulated by and for civilized nations, it is not permissible for an enemy to pillage private property found in occupied territory. But the Boche regards no law but his own. It is said that there is honor amongst thieves, but not so amongst the Boche. Granting that it is right to steal and pillage and plunder, why not be decent about it? Why destroy thousands of dollars worth of property in getting loot worth a hundred? That is what he has done here. Linen, silverware and valuable trinkets have been his specialty. He didn't leave any here. In a beautiful bedroom I found nothing but ruin. All the contents of dressers have been tumbled on the floor and trampled under foot, a beautiful cabinet has been broken open, fine paintings have been cut out of their frames, rare tapestries and curtains of indescribable beauty have been ruined. Nearly always in the center of the room is one great heap of rubbish to climb over if you pass thru. Where the shells have hit there is even worse confusion. There were lots of pianos in this town and on many of them have I amidst the surrounding desolation played and sung. "Absent."

When the Boche took this town there were about two hundred civilians who were unable to leave. Oh, the tales they tell are heartrending. On account of the fierce allied bombardment they had to stay in their cellars for nearly six weeks, and then when the French and Americans marched into town their joy almost cost them their reason. Few times in my life have I been so touched as I was when a group of old ladies attempted to tell me with tearful eyes how they felt when they saw the Americans marching into town.

I have been American Town Major here since I arrived and an interesting experience it has been too. It seems rather strange to exercise control over a little city like this under present conditions. Of course there are few civilians here. Whenever a detachment of Americans comes along I put them most anywhere making sure of course that property is properly taken care of. Many are the fine beds that have held back privates lately. And my how the boys appreciate it, too. The one particularly disagreeable feature has been the bombing nearly every night. But there are lots of deep wine cellars here and we generally get into one if we have time. All soldiers agree that bombing is one of the nastiest experiences we have to undergo. Small gunfire or even the shelling of artillery is not so disagreeable. In the case of shell you feel that if the first one doesn't get you the second one probably will not. But in the case of bombs you know that hostile motor that gets a fellow's goat.

Have Narrow Escape. You have probably read in the papers that on midnight of July 14th the Boche attempted something that he didn't get very far with. We were on the front farther east in this valley. I believe I wrote Adelaide a letter from near there telling her about a famous church. Anyway I was at a certain point at the front on a special mission with some other officers. We had been expecting the big show would be pulled off or at least commenced that night. A little after midnight we were awakened by a bombardment which at first we thought might be the nightly barrage, but as soon as our eyes responded it was apparent the much talked of offensive was on. It sounded as tho all hell had turned loose. Such a bombardment I never heard before. It was awful. They (the shells) commenced coming our way so we got in the trench and at 1:30 a. m. we were being pretty heavily shelled. One fell just above and at the end of our trench in such a way as to inflame it killing three of our officers, two of whom were standing beside me, wounding some officers and privates. I didn't get a scratch. In attempting to care for our wounded immediately it was a trying experience. One of the officers killed had met Lt. Adrian Edwards at Fort Sheridan when they were in training.

In a few hours we had to go to another point on the line several miles from this one. There was a field hospital there and what I saw beggars description. A field hospital is just back a bit and is generally made of tents or long barracks made of light lumber. This one was of the latter sort. The Boches bombed the hospital every five minutes for several hours. I stood not two hundred feet away and watched them put a shell in one of the wards containing some of our wounded killing every one in there including the assistants. Of course it was apparent the hospital would have to be moved, so it was moved so far back that many lives were lost on account of the long trip getting from the front line to the operating table.

Install New Field Hospital. Being unable to continue our work, I was asked to assist for a couple of days in the installation of the new field hospital which on account of the battle was overwhelmed with business. This hospital was installed in long tents each tent comprising a ward. Here they came one ambulance after another with its load of heroes. And they are heroes, those boys of ours in the Rainbow Division. Some were taken in the gas ward, some to another ward to await operation and some directly to the operating room. Surgeons were working in groups or teams thruout the day and night. It was interesting to talk to the soldiers and hear their modest recitals of their experiences. One little lad of seventeen told me that he used to live in Florida and that he just got tired of the farm and ran away from home and joined an Alabama regiment. That this brave little fellow did personally dispose of several Boche I verified from other sources. His boyish recital of his experiences was more like that of a boy after a rattling good rabbit hunt. He wants his hand to hurry and get well so he can get back in the line with his pals. How many wounded passed thru there I can't tell you but in civil life you would think it a good many.

Dead Buried in Trenches. Of course where there were wounded there must be some dead. In the rush it was difficult to bury them; and as the weather was warm that made it worse. So I volunteered to take charge of the situation. With a detail of men we commenced. The first four we buried in separate graves. But soon that became impossible so we dug one long trench in which we buried about thirty. In order to encourage the boys helping to take off my coat and dug. And oh, such soil to dig in—I never saw anything like it. It is a sort of hard chalky substance. We didn't have even boxes to bury these soldiers of ours in, so we just laid them down side by side in blankets. And as they lay on the stretchers in a row on the grass near the grave as I looked at a tow head, then a black head then a brown head all boyish. I couldn't help but think of some mother, father, sister or sweet heart away back in America. With care we got them in the trench and with very simple rites by a chaplain, (a Catholic priest) and myself we laid our loved boys away. What our simple exercises lacked in form we made up in sincerity. Since being here I buried the body of a Major McKenna from one of our regiments. You may have read in the Literary Digest a letter he wrote not long ago. The last night at the hospital the Boche came over and tried to drop a bomb on it. They just missed it by a few yards. I have read in the papers recently of their having bombed some of our hospitals but I have never seen mentioned either of the outrages I have recited in this letter. By the way, while at the last hospital, I met a Dr. Cook from Topeka, Kansas, who graduated with me at the University of Chicago. He and I roomed together at Shell Hall. He remembered having met you and Adelaide and Adelaide very well and when you came up to my graduation. I just yesterday received some letters from you the first I have had in several weeks. You asked me to send you some souvenirs but I'm sorry to say that an order has just come out prohibiting that. I sent Grant a shell case of a 75 just like I sent you. Did he get it?

With lots of love,
Herb.

REPORT FOR WEST JACKSONVILLE CHARGE

At Quarterly Meeting Held Saturday Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick Presents Annual Report for Ebenezer Church and Wesley Chapel.

The quarterly meeting of West Jacksonville district was held Saturday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. building. At that time the officers of Ebenezer church and Wesley Chapel were chosen and the report of the pastor, Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, for the year was made. It is given in full below:

Worthy Superintendent and Brethren of West Jacksonville Charge:

We come to the end of the second year of my ministry with you. The year has passed by very swiftly. One can scarcely realize that another conference is at hand and that we will be compelled to make the annual report of this charge.

This has been a remarkable year, there has been so many enterprises that this preacher has felt like one of old who said, "my days are as a weavers shuttle." I have spoken and preached as many as eleven times in a week. In all I have endeavored to be faithful to my charge, ever remembering that to them I was sent to be a pastor and preacher. We hope the year has been fraught with good and that we have not slid backward, but hope to have some gain to report.

The war has tried our mettle and has made many demands on the people. Some have given that which is as the costly ointment, namely their sons to go to the field of sacrifice. All have sacrificed their time and means. The heart yearnings of the many have been felt in the worship hours and in the homes as I have come in contact with the home.

The various officials and the heads of departments have stood loyally by their pastor and have kept the home fire of religion burning on the altar. The Sunday Schools have lost several but the interest has not waned. The Epworth League has kept the young people awake to the high purpose for which it was born. It has looked after the welfare of the young men who were pressed into service at the Nation's call.

The reports of the various departments will cover the fourth quarter and some the yearly report.

Membership.
Total reported last Conference 250
Dismissed by letter 10
Received by letter 8
Received from probation 2
Deaths 3
Leaving 249 members or a loss of one.

On the Sabbath day (or tomorrow) I expect to receive 8 or 10 into full membership.

Enterprises.
In all the war work our people have done their part in helping provide funds in no stinted measure. Last year we had a report of the amounts given to the Red Cross work but this year the Red Cross campaign was conducted differently so that it was impossible to ascertain the amounts given, likewise the other things as Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army work and other things that called for momentary help.

The following interests we have accounted for, namely:
Sunday School Union $ 6.00
Hunger Fund 56.00
War Chaplain Fund 25.00
Children's Day Ebenezer 20.00
Retired minister's Fund Ebenezer over the top.

The benevolence account is not ready to report. Wesley Chapel membership have been forward in giving, almost every family having given, the balance will respond before the final report. Ebenezer will come up, possibly every family will give.

The people have a large list of Epworth Heralds and Christian Advocates.

We also use the publications of the church.

The families which have sons have given to the cause of justice their noble boys. We have a roster of ten or twelve and one gold star. Some have given their only son. We are tasting the sorrows of war yet with great fortitude. While the hearts are hurt the faces are kept smiling and good cheer prevades us.

Our Epworth League suffers the loss of some of our dependable young men and indeed they are missed from the services.

The Woman's Missionary Society has had a great gain this year, their report will show a large increase in both membership and offerings. If we do not obtain the prize we will be headed for it and come out by a nose length.

the noble people whom it has been my lot to serve have grown more noble as they have suffered and sacrificed. They have been a great brotherhood and have stood by their pastor nobly and the heart thread that binds has bound closer as the second year comes to a close. We appreciate the loyalty and brotherly kindnesses and are glad for that "fellowship" kin to that above.

I would be recreant to my position as pastor should I fail to express my feelings of great appreciation for the fellowship and brotherly nearness of our worthy superintendent, Brother Fletcher who as a careful and thoughtful over shepherd has rendered such kindly service to both the pastor and his charge. We would say to him personally "We thank you heartily for your worthy services and watchful care for us."

FERRY PILOTS HAVE IMPORTANT DUTIES

American Airmen Given Task of Taking New War Airplanes over the Channel to Points Where Needed at Front—Task Difficult One in Bad Weather.

Somewhere in England, Aug. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Several American airmen have recently been put on duty as special "ferry pilots" between England and France. This is a very important work, consisting mainly of taking new war airplanes over the Channel in all weathers to points, where they are needed at the front. The task is not difficult in fine weather, but in bad weather it is sometimes very difficult and dangerous.

Whether the weather is bad or good, the machines needed at the front must go without delay.

On a recent day, chilly and obscure, one of the American "ferry-men" was ordered to take a new scout fighter to an aerodrome close to the front-lines in Northern France. The clouds were so low and the haze so pronounced that the far end of the flying ground was barely visible. The pilot thought he might scrape thru by flying low and changing possible engine failure.

After he set off, he found matters even worse than he had thought. At 200 feet, objects were scarcely visible; at 300 feet he could see nothing. He made a circuit of the aerodrome, and might have landed again, except that the American pilots have a distaste for admitting that anything is impossible.

He rose to 350 feet and was enveloped in cloud. It was now too late to land, for he had lost the aerodrome, and if he were to come down to look for a good field he might hit a neighboring cliff or factory chimney. The only thing to do was to keep on his compass course and climb up above the clouds and after flying for about half an hour to glide down gradually thru them in search of a landmark.

At 3,000 feet he found himself above the clouds and in the midst of bright morning sunshine. The half hour passed and the pilot had to make up his mind to dive back down thru the clouds.

The luck suddenly decided it in the shape of a small gap in the cloud, thru which he caught a glimpse of the green fields of France. Without hesitation he shut off his engine and dived thru the gap. By good fortune the clouds here were higher than on the English side, but it was raining hard.

He switched on the engine again below the clouds and sailed along at a comparatively low altitude thru the rain, picking up landmarks by which he chose his course. Thence it was comparatively plain sailing, and in a short time he landed at the depot aerodrome and housed his machine.

AFTER GERMAN SYMPATHIZER.
The following news despatch from Clarence, Iowa, indicates the patriotic feeling of some citizens there and their firm intention to make it very uncomfortable for any German sympathizers there may be in their locality:

"Angered because the local phone company is alleged to have permitted the use of the German language over its wires, a crowd last night daubed the building with yellow paint.

After coating the phone building, the crowd, said to have been composed of leading citizens, applied the brush and bucket to a restaurant owned by Albert Hoffman, and a garage belonging to Hoffman, rom the Hoffman building the crowd went to a furniture store owned by Henry Egleking and gave it a coat of the yellow.

Hoffman and Egleking are accused of being pro-Germans.

United States officials are en route. It was learned this morning, and a clean-up of alleged pro-Germans is expected."

SERGEANT WAYMANN VISITOR IN CITY.

Sergeant Matthew Wayman is making a brief visit in Jacksonville, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree. He has been in attendance at the State Bankers' meeting in Springfield, where he was one of the speakers. His address did not deal with his own experiences in the war, but was rather a resume of what recent developments on the battle front mean. Sergeant Wayman is one of the war observers who believes that permanent peace is not going to come until after several years' struggle.

From Jacksonville, Sergeant Wayman will go to St. Louis, where he is to aid in the work of the fourth Liberty loan campaign.

RETURN FROM OMENA.

Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, son Farrell, and nephew Felix E. Farrell, have returned from Omena, Mich., where they spent the summer at the Crabtree cottage.

WRITES FROM FRANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Watt yesterday received a letter from their son, Floyd Watt, who is with the American troops in France. This is the first letter they have received during a five week period. The young soldier is with the heavy field artillery, in Battery A. In his letter he speaks of being well and happy, and says that soldiers at the front are certainly well fed and cared for just as well as possible.

MAKING SOIL SURVEY.

F. W. Washer and Wayne K. Moore, soil engineers representing the state department, have begun their work of a soil survey in Morgan county. It will not be possible to complete this work this fall, but it will be continued as long as weather conditions permit and then be resumed in the spring months. Soil tests will be taken in all parts of the county and a subsequent report published.

Boyhood days of Charles F. were spent in those towns where he was educated. He graduated in bookkeeping with a credit of 90 and took a position in Chicago at $5.00 per week. A year later he engaged in real estate business. He owns two farms and $20,000 in Chicago real estate. QUAL REUNION OF COONS FAMILY IS HELD Members Gathered at Home of Mrs. William Coons of New Berlin—Over 100 Members Present—Next Meeting With John Erixon North of Island Grove.

The Coons family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Coons, the J. P. Coons, instead, about two miles south of New Berlin Saturday. There were about 100 persons present, being related by blood or marriage to the Coons family. At the arrival of the guests which began about 9 o'clock a. m. they were most heartily greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Coons.

A social hour of welcome and greetings was held and at 11 a. m. out 100 persons had registered their names in a large book which was given by Mrs. Coons. As a souvenir of the reunion, a silver pin was given to each of the ladies. At noon the good ladies unpacked the baskets, all had brought, and the things which had been prepared.

Following the dinner cigars were passed by Mr. Coons to all to be smoked. The afternoon hours were enjoyably spent in program of music and talking being arranged for the occasion. A solo, "The Silver Linings," was given by Miss Wilma Smith, and Master Richard Smith, Springfield, five years old, sang "America" in a splendid manner. Richard Smith also gave a fine imitation of an old time Baptist preacher.

George M. Moran of Springfield then gave an interesting history of the Coons family from the signing up to the present, giving the names of many of the deceased members and describing hardships encountered by the members who came to this country before the great snow.

Several violin selections were given by George Coons, assisted by Richard Smith, an expert with "bones." The company then turned in singing "God be with u Till We Meet Again." The reunion next year will be held at the home of John Erixon north of Island Grove. The oldest member of the Coons family now living is Sarah Coons, who makes her home with her daughter in Springfield. Mrs. Coons, who is eighty seven years of age, is present at the reunion this year and was greeted with pleasure by all.

PUBLIC SCHOOL AFFAIRS.

Supt. Perrin confers with teachers

At the meeting of teachers of the Jacksonville schools yesterday Supt. Perrin made a helpful address referring particularly to the months to come. He spoke in detail of school work in its relation to the war. That there are many problems about educational work which have been brought into notice by the war, everyone at all familiar with schools and colleges is well aware. That there will be still greater problems after the war is also a matter of common knowledge. But just at present educators are finding their chief concern with the present day problem of cause of certain changes it is not at all unlikely that the schools of the country will, if the war continues, find it advisable to have school sessions thru the entire year instead of a nine months term.

Junior Red Cross Work.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Perrin called attention to the first work of the Junior Red Cross organization. It is asked that the school children be enrolled in this work make collection of peach, prune, olive stones and nut shells for the government. It is possible for these materials to be made carbon to be used in connection with gas masks for the protection of soldiers. In the collecting of these materials the school boys and girls can be of great use and they have the opportunity for performing a real service. Mr. Perrin within a short time expects to call this matter to the attention of the Junior Red Cross organization in the county schools.

Altogether the teachers conference Saturday was of a helpful and satisfactory kind and indications point to an auspicious beginning of the school work.

High School Faculty.

A number of changes have been made in the faculty of the Jacksonville high school for this year. According to statement made yesterday by Supt. Perrin, the teachers are all here ready for the work of the year and there is every indication that the high school has a well chosen faculty. Because of the dual use of the David Prince building the high school session will run thru the afternoon hours. The dual plan as followed last year proved very satisfactory. The members of the faculty and the branches that they will teach are indicated below:

Herbert C. Hopkins, Prin., History and Civics.
Helen Catky, History and Civics.
Anna English, English.
Marguerite Keith, Mathematics.

FROM NEBRASKA.

Mr. Ensley Moore has returned from his annual pilgrimage to Northeastern Nebraska. Enroute, going, he laid over several hours at Hannibal, and got a lunch in the station restaurant. When it came to paying the good looking man in charge, asked the traveler where he was from. The reply of course, being from Illinois—Jacksonville. "What is your name?" This being given, the gentleman exclaimed, "Ensley Moore!" as if he knew the name. It was now Mr. Moore's turn to question, and he asked what the other man's name was. The reply being "Charles Strong." At which Mr. Moore exclaimed, "Charles Strong!" and he saw a boy—in retrospect, about 14 years of age, at the old West District School. They had not met for about fifty six years. Then Jacksonville was talked over by Mr. Strong was a brother of John D. P. A. Samuel and Julius Strong, all well known here about the beginning of the Civil War.

In Nebraska our citizen found the corn, just north of Omaha pretty well sizzled up. But in the northeastern part of the state the cereal had not been much affected by drought or heat. Oats up there had been pretty well "spotted," with larger or smaller crops, in Wayne and Dixon counties.

The people generally are fully alive to patriotic efforts and have contributed splendidly to the special agencies, such as Y. M. C. A., Red Cross. And one or two of the windows are largely in evidence.

Miss Ella King Morrison, who went to Europe in war service has been heard from at Gibraltar, and her destination "somewhere" over there.

Mr. Moore visited at the home of his son George K. Moore, who is engaged in farming and enjoying that pursuit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodward Jones, of Wayne were also visited.

Some time was spent at Norfolk, which is the largest town in Northern Nebraska, and growing much at this time.

The traveler had not been in Sioux City, Iowa, before, for eight or ten years, and found that city growing, and improving much in urban appearance and development.

A feature of this trip was seeing how the government management of the trains and cost of travel. It was quite different from the ways of doing for many years past.

J. H. COLTON WEPS AT DAKOTA CITY

Former Morgan County Citizen Marries Miss Marguerite Young on Eve of Leaving for Army Service.

The Jacksonville friends of J. H. Colton will be interested in knowing of his recent marriage at New Rockford, North Dakota, to Miss Marguerite Young. The ceremony took place in that city at the Congregational church with a large company present. The wedding plans were hastened by the fact that Mr. Colton is about to enter the army service. In fact, the second day after the ceremony he left with the troops from New Rockford for Camp Lewis. The following notice is from the New Rockford Transcript:

"A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the First Congregational church of this city Monday afternoon at five o'clock when Rev. W. C. Besseliere united in the holy bonds of matrimony, John Herbert Colton and Miss Marguerite Young, the ceremony being performed in the presence of a large number of the friends of the high contracting parties. Preceding the ceremony Miss Martha Krumpet sang two fine solos, "Absent," and "My Rosary," and Miss Dorothy Payne played the "E Major Etude," by Chopin, and "Lento," by Cyril Scott. The couple were unattended and the impressive ring service was used during which Miss Payne played an appropriate selection.

"The principals in the above happy event are well known to our citizens, the bride having been one of the high school faculty for the past two years, a charming young lady of many exceptional accomplishments, besides being an educator of much ability, with an army of friends and admirers throughout the city. The groom has been the efficient head of our city schools for the past three terms and he is a young man of exceptional ability along the line of endeavor he had laid out for himself, a man among men and one to whom the future holds out many bright prospects on account of his ability. He departed with the contingent bound for Camp Lewis Wednesday and until the war is over will give his services to Uncle Sam.

"The many friends of the young couple will join in with the Transcript in extending congratulations and the hope that the separation will not be long and that when the reunion comes it will mean a life of long happiness and prosperity."

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. M. E. Young, of Oberlin, Ohio. She is a graduate of Oberlin college and in addition to literary work took special training in music. She is a finished musician and altogether a young woman of splendid attainments and character.

Mr. Colton, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Colton of Woodson, is a graduate of Illinois college. He supplemented his work here with courses at Columbia university and Bradley institute. As indicated in the paragraphs above, he has been very successful in his educational work. Mr. Colton during his student days was actively identified with various college enterprises. He is a young man of fine attainments and does credit to the excellent Morgan county family to which he belongs.

MORE WHEAT IS URGED FOR STATE

Morgan County Minimum Acreage Fixed at 38,888 — Need Is Great, State Council of Defense Says.

The effort made by the State Council of Defense to increase the acreage of wheat in Illinois is having its effect and the indications point to the largest acreage this year the state has ever known. Frank E. Drury, chairman of the food production and conservation committee for Morgan county, has received a communication on this subject calling attention to the fact that the minimum acreage quota assigned to this county is 38,888. It is the hope of the State Council of Defense that this acreage will be greatly increased and possibly that the maximum figure of 64,814 may be reached. In urging the greater production of wheat the State Council said:

"There is an international need for more wheat. The United States Department of Agriculture, in its latest recommendation, deems it highly desirable that the acreage sown to wheat this fall and next spring shall be sufficient to assure, if possible, a harvest acreage of wheat in 1919 as large as the acreage harvested this year. To insure this harvest the farmers of the country are asked to sow to winter wheat this fall, not less than forty-five million acres. The minimum quota assigned to Illinois for 1919 is 2,934,000 acres, or an increase over 1918 of 13 per cent.

"Every Illinois county is therefore asked to grow wheat on at least one-fifth of the acreage in cereals shown by the latest report of the United States Bureau of Census. Some counties in southern and southwestern Illinois will no doubt, achieve or even exceed their maximum quota, that is, they will grow wheat on one-third or more than one-third of their cereal acreage."

Eugene Greenleaf Soon to Enter War Work Overseas — His Two Sons in Service.

Eugene Greenleaf is in Jacksonville for a brief visit on the way from his home in Kingman, Kans., to New York City. He expects to depart soon for the eastern city for overseas service with the Red Cross. He has recently received appointment as an ambulance driver and has been directed to secure passports which will take him to England, France, Switzerland and Italy. He is, therefore, quite uncertain as to the exact locality in which he will find his work.

Mr. Greenleaf, who is fifty years of age, has been for months past seeking to get into the war service in some way and finally was able to secure the Red Cross appointment. He made arrangements for his brother, Edward Greenleaf, to manage his garage and business in Kingman during his absence at the war front. Aside from his patriotic interest in the war, Mr. Greenleaf has two reasons for wishing to go overseas, these two reasons being that his sons, Aaron and Frank, are both "over there." Aaron Greenleaf is now with headquarters Co. 35th Infantry and went to France last May. He was in the second battle of the Marne and has taken part in several notable engagements. Frank Greenleaf is with Battery F. of the 130th Field Artillery, and has also seen some active fighting. The Greenleaf family certainly intends to do its part in the war.

STUDENTS' ARMY CORPS PLAN EXPLAINED

President Rammelkamp Answers Many Questions Which Have Been Asked About Plan.

No announcement with reference to Illinois College affairs has caused more general interest than that stating that a unit of the students' army training corps would be established at the college this year. Not until this announcement had it been fully understood that the college this year would be under full government control and that young men eighteen years and over could enter the army service at the college and at the same time have the advantage of educational work. As previously indicated, the dormitory will become army barracks with the opening of the fall term and the hundred young men housed there will have full army equipment, draw the pay of privates and be subject to the direction of a U. S. army officer.

Many questions have been asked with reference to the plans and Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, president of the college, yesterday issued the following statement covering some of the points which are most frequently brought out in the questions asked:

1. What studies will a man who enlists in the S. A. T. C. be permitted to take?

Considerable liberty of choice will be allowed the man; the war department definitely prescribes for all men a certain amount of military drill and instruction in the theoretical military tactics, course in the causes of the war is also prescribed and a course in French is strongly recommended. Beyond these requirements the men will have the liberty of choosing courses in mathematics, physics, chemistry, English, mechanical drawing, surveying, etc.

Will the government pay for the education of a man eighteen years of age who registers in Whipple Academy, the preparatory department?

It will not. The government probably will provide him with a rifle and it will give him full privilege to enjoy the military instruction provided for the S. A. T. C., but the man will have to pay his own way thru school. Illinois College has a number of scholarship funds and will be glad to provide for the tuition of some of the men in Whipple, so far as these funds permit.

3. When does the government begin to pay the expenses of the men?

On or about the first of October. The instructions from the war department advise that the men will have to pay their own expenses from the college registration days to the first of October.

4. Must the men who intend to enlist in the S. A. T. C. register with their local board?

Yes. They should register just like all other men between eighteen and forty-five, on September 12th. They should register in the college on September 16th or 17th, and then they will probably be inducted into the S. A. T. C. about the first of October.

5. May a man of twenty years of age register in college and enlist in the S. A. T. C.?

Yes.

6. May a man twenty-one years of age register in college and register in the S. A. T. C.?

Yes. However, if he became twenty-one years of age by June 5th or August 26th, it seems very likely that he will be called into the service before students are inducted into the S. A. T. C. on the first of October.

7. Will all the men have to live in the barracks?

All men who enlist in the S. A. T. C. Even the boys who reside in town will have to live in the barracks. Probably students and young men under eighteen may not have to reside in the barracks, but of that we cannot be certain until the army officer arrives and gives his definite instructions. Of course, a young man who does not enlist in the S. A. T. C. will not be compelled to reside in the barracks.

8. How long will men be permitted to remain in college?

It cannot now be definitely stated how long a particular student will remain at college. This will depend on the requirements of mobilization.

9. To what kind of service will men be assigned after they have been taken out of college?

In answer to this important question I quote the instructions from the war department:

"The student soldiers will be given military instruction under officers of the army and will be kept under observation and test to determine their qualifications as officer-candidates, and technical experts, such as engineers, chemists and doctors. After a certain period the men will be selected according to their performance and assigned to military duty in one of the following ways:

(a) He may be transferred to a central officers' training camp.

(b) He may be transferred to a non-commissioned officers' training school.

(c) He may be assigned to the school where he is enrolled for further intensive work in a specified line for a limited specified time.

(d) He may be assigned to the vocational training section of the corps for technical training of military value.

(e) He may be transferred to a cantonment for duty with troops as a private."

10. Will entrance into college and taking the military drill give a man deferred classification?

Not at all. The men who enlist in the S. A. T. C. will thereby at once become members of the army of the United States subject to the call of the president, but presumably they will be left in college for a time to study and take their military training.

11. Will Illinois College provide courses for girls, as usual?

Yes. As far as possible the college will provide the usual curriculum and will also have some special course in dietetics, food conservation, home nursing for the girls.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Joseph Ryman of Alexander in Critical Condition from Injuries Received When Auto Turns Turtle—Accident Occurred on Morton Road.

As the result of being pinned under an automobile when it turned turtle, Mrs. Joseph Ryman of Alexander is lying at Our Savior's hospital in a critical condition suffering from concussion of the brain. Her husband who was driving the car escaped with only painful bruises.

The accident occurred on the Morton road just at the east end of the hard road. Mrs. Ryman was hurried to the hospital in the car of Mr. and Mrs. William Kunkle of Alexander who arrived on the scene shortly after the accident.

Here she was attended by Dr. J. W. Hairgrove. Examination revealed many bruises about the head and body tho there were no cuts. One of the worst was an abrasion on the cheek bone under the left eye. There also was a bad bruise between the shoulders.

Owing to the fact that Mrs. Ryman was unconscious when she was brought to the hospital, and is still in that state, only a superficial examination could be made. Dr. Hairgrove said last night that she was suffering from a severe concussion of the brain. There may be internal injuries but it will be impossible to tell about these for several days. He regards her condition as critical.

So far as can be learned Mr. and Mrs. Ryman had been to Jacksonville shopping and had started to return to their home in Alexander shortly before 6 o'clock. Driving a roadster Mr. Ryman was in rather a dazed condition after the accident and could not tell much about the manner in which it happened.

However, those who visited the scene afterward said it appeared that Mr. Ryman had attempted to pass a car going in the same direction. Evidently the driver of the other car did not give any of the road and Mr. Ryman's car went into the ditch. He was thrown free of the car but Mrs. Ryman was pinned underneath with the results as indicated.

DECORATE ON REGISTRATION DAY

To the People of Morgan County: Next Thursday, Sept. 12, 1918, will be registration day, under the selective service law, for all male citizens of the United States between the ages of 18 and 29 inclusive and 32 to 45 inclusive.

This call of the government emphasizes most strongly the often expressed purpose of the United States to use all the powers of the government to put an end, finally and forever to Prussian autocracy and make the world safe for democracy.

The executive committee of the Morgan County State Council of Defense calls upon the loyal people of Morgan county to show their appreciation of the patriotic spirit with which the citizens of lawful age of our county are responding to the call of the government by decorating their homes and places of business with the flag of our country. It is this flag these men will follow—this flag that represents the principles of government under which we live—this flag which means more to the lovers of freedom and justice the world over than any other flag.

Let the Stars and Stripes be in evidence everywhere on registration day. On this day more than thirteen million American citizens will answer the government's call by saying: "Here is my name, age and address. Call me when I am needed."

One P. Thompson, Chairman of the Morgan County Executive Committee.
